SECOND EDITION
THE FARRINGDONS

A Novel. By ELLEN THORNEYCROFT FOWLER, author of "Concerning Isabel Carnaby" and "A Double Thread." Uniform edition. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"Miss Fowler's rare combination of brilliancy and tenderness captivated the novel-reading public on both sides of the Atlantic. Now comes 'The Farringdons,' which shows a deepening of the best powers of this talented author. While it charms one with its quiet humor and its brilliancy there lies beneath an unwonted depth of kindly comprehension of the human heart. There is in the story a subtle and surprising power that leaves the heart stirred with a wholesome enthusiasm for the great things of life."—Chicago Tribune.

"The novel has come, one so far above mediocrity that in these piping times of literary peace its appearance should be hailed with trumpet and drum and choral song."—N. Y. Times.

"Sparkling dialogue, careful character-drawing, and admirable descriptions are all here, but above all we have real people, and real people, who are interesting. The book is another evidence of the high abilities of the writer."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

"'The Farringdons' is the best of Miss Fowler's books. It has the wit and brightness with which we are all familiar; it is also deeper, tenderer and truer."—The Bookman.

"Of all the charms of Miss Fowler's books, the greatest perhaps is that her characters are all alive; they are people of real flesh and blood, whom it is a delight to know through the medium of her pages and to remember long afterward. It is always venturesome to draw comparisons, and the respective merits of 'The Farringdons' and of Miss Fowler's earlier works had perhaps best be left to popular verdict, but it is safe to predict that a large proportion of readers will declare in favor of the new work."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

"Miss Fowler makes her own audience, which, large as it is in England, must be even larger in this country. There is a deeper note in this story than any she has yet sounded. . . . 'The Farringdons' is, above all else, a proclamation to the world that the religion which Christ brought to humanity is a living power, undiminished in strength, the mainspring of the actions and aspirations of millions of Anglo-Saxons."—New York Mail and Express.

"A book of intense interest."—Springfield Union.

"By the best equipped writer in the country."
BIRD STUDIES WITH A CAMERA.

With Introductory Chapters on the Outfit and Methods of the Bird Photographer. By FRANK M. CHAPMAN, Assistant Curator of Vertebrate Zoology in the American Museum of Natural History; Author of "Handbook of Birds of Eastern North America," and of "Bird-Life," with Ernest Seton-Thompson's pictures. Illustrated with over 100 photographs from Nature by the author. 12mo, cloth, $1.75.

"Invaluable to all students of ornithology. The pictures are of great value and interest. The text is written with knowledge and enthusiasm. Altogether the work is a charming one."—N. Y. Herald.

THE LAST LADY OF MULBERRY.

A HISTORY OF SANSKRIT LITERATURE.

By A. A. MACDONELL, M.A., Deputy Boden Professor of Sanskrit at the University of Oxford. A new volume in the Literature of the World Series, edited by Edmund Gosse. 12mo, cloth, $1.50. Down to the present time no history of Sanskrit literature as a whole has been written in English.

Appletons' Town and Country Library.

The Seafarers. A Romance. By J. BLOUNDELLE-BURTON, author of "In the Day of Adversity," "Denounced," etc. No. 285, Appletons' Town and Country Library. 12mo, cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 c. "A hearty, thoroughly readable tale of the sea, in which shipwreck and sunshine answer to the unsmooth course of love."—London Academy.

The Lunatic at Large. A Novel. By J. STORER CLOUSTON.

NOTES IN SEASON.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. will publish shortly a new critical life of James Martineau, by the Rev. A. W. Jackson of Concord, Mass., who has been aided in his researches by the children of Dr. Martineau.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have just ready in their series of Select Novels "The Peacemakers," by John Strange Winter; also "A Book of Verses," by Robert Loveman. They will publish shortly in their series of Select Novels "A Millionaire of Yesterday," by G. Phillips Oppenheim.

JOHN LANE has just ready "The Cardinal's Snuff-Box," by Henry Harland, who tells a story of Rome; "A Second Coming," by Richard Marsh, telling his conception of what might happen if Christ came to London; and "Travels in England," by Richard Le Gallienne, illustrated by Herbert Railton.

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY have made arrangements for a limited edition, bound in paper, of Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy," which will be issued as No. 15 of The People's Library. They will shortly add to their Superb Library Jessie Fothergill's fascinating novelty "Oriole's Daughter."

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO. will publish at once, under the title of "Spencer and Spencerism," the book by Hector Macpherson, which was first to be entitled "Herbert Spencer's Life and Works." The change has been made in deference to Mr. Spencer's wishes, who feared that the book might be regarded as a complete biography, to the preparation of which he has for so many years been opposed.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just ready a story of student life in New York, entitled "The Bennett Twins," by Grace Marguerite Hurd, of the editorial staff of the Boston Evening Transcript, of which her father is the literary editor. They will shortly publish in their New Testament Handbook Series a work by Professor E. P. Gould on "The Biblical Theology of the New Testament," in which some traditional beliefs are traversed in a way that is likely to provoke discussion. They have in preparation for the same series a new work by Professor Nash, on "The History of the Higher Criticism of the New Testament."

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS expect to publish at once the third volume of the poetry in the Murray edition of Byron's works. It will contain the "Poems" of 1809-10, the "Thryza Poems," "The Giaour," "Bride of Abydos," "Corsair," and "Lara," the "Hebrew Melodies," the "Siege of Corinth," "Parisina," and the "Poems of the Separation." Vol. iv. of the letters, carrying them down to March, 1820, is being rapidly printed off, and will soon be ready for publication. The delay which has occurred in the appearance of these volumes is said to be due to causes which could not have been foreseen, and for which the editors and publishers are not responsible. It is expected that the remaining volumes, which are well advanced, will appear at short intervals.

HARPER & BROTHERS announce for early publication a revised edition of Mrs. Sherwood's "Manners and Social Usages," which will contain a new introduction and additional chapters; "The Road to Nowhere," by L. B. Morse; a tale of a child's fancy, which is said to be not unlike "Alice in Wonderland," with illustrations, in black and red, by Edna Morse; "The Story of Nineteenth Century Science," by Dr. H. S. Williams, a collection of the articles that have appeared from time to time in Harper's Magazine; also "Meloon Farm," Maria Louise Pool's latest novel. They have in preparation a volume by William Dean Howells, entitled "My Acquaintance Among Authors—a personal retrospect of American literature," part of which has already made its appearance in Harper's Magazine. The book will be appropriately illustrated.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., mar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Allen, Willis Boyd. The head of Pasht. N. Y., Dutton, 1900. 4+346 p. D. cl., $1.50.

John Graham, a refined, scholarly man, is convicted through circumstantial evidence of having murdered a fellow townsman, who had mysteriously disappeared with a large sum of money. He is sentenced to imprisonment for life. His son only knows his father is in prison when he reaches his sixteenth year. Then he is so convinced of his father's innocence that he makes it his life work to prove that he did not commit the murder. There is a long succession of detective episodes in which a gold button, with a head of Pasht on, plays a part.

Ambler, H: Lovejoy, M.D., comp. Facts, fads, and fancies about teeth. Cleveland, O., Helman-Taylor Co., [1900.] 8°, cl., $2.50.

Andrews, S: Ja. William Watson Andrews: a religious biography; with extracts from his letters and other writings; prepared by his brother. N. Y., Putnam, 1900. c. 8+280 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The Rev. W. W. Andrews was born Feb. 26, 1810; died Oct. 17, 1897. His first church was the Congregational Church in Kent, Ct. He was pastor for fifteen years; in 1849 he went to Potsdam in St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., in 1856 he entered upon his ministry as an Evangelist in which he continued till his death in 1897—a period of forty years. Published writings of W. W. Andrews (3 p.)

Askwith, E. H. The Christian conception of holiness. N. Y., Macmillan, 1900. 15+258 p. 12°, cl., $1.75.

Atherton, Mrs. Gertrude Franklin, ["Frank Lin," pseud.] Senator North. N. Y., J: Lane, 1900. c. 4+367 p. D. cl., $1.50.

"Senator North" is a composite portrait of our best types of public men. He is represented as a man of sixty, of high intellectual attainments, of untarnished reputation, a Republican leader in the Senate. The scene is Washington, the time at the outbreak of our war with Spain. A good picture is given of public sentiment at the time, and of the party in opposition to war. "Senator North" attracts a charming young girl, brilliantly educated and of a prominent Southern family. Their influence upon each other's lives is the story.

Atkinson, E: Prevention of loss by fire: fifty years' record of factory mutual insurance based on thirty-five years' personal experience; with suggestions for the protection of cities from conflagration. Bost., Damrell & Upham, 1900. c. 95 p. O. pap., 25 c.

Baskett, Ja. Newton. As the light led. N. Y., Macmillan, 1900. c. 5+392 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The scene of the story like that of "At You-All's house" is laid in Northern Missouri. It is a country love story of the late "Sixties," when the political issues of that part of Missouri were deeply swayed by the disputes of the Immersionists and the Paedo-Baptists. Around one of these disputes Mr. Baskett has written the thread of his story which presents a striking picture of the features and customs of the rural Mississippi valley.

Bates, S: Austin. Genealogy of the descendants of Edward Bates of Weymouth, Mass., South Baintree, Mass. Frank A. Bates, 1900. 143 p. por. D. cl., $1.25.

The principal part of this work was prepared by the late Samuel Austin Bates, a veteran genealogist and historian; after the death of the author, Frank A. Bates, completed and edited the book, thus preserving the vital statistics of the Bates family.

Bell, J. Munro. Chippendale, Sheraton, and Hepplewhite furniture designs, reproduced and arranged by J. Munro Bell. N. Y., Truslove, Hanson & Comba, Ltd., 1900. 16+259 p. f°, cl., net, $15.

Contents: A retrospect; From the artificial to the natural; Science and theology; Natural versus supernatural; Faith and credulity; In corroboration of Professor Huxley; The modern skeptic; The decadence of theology; Reason and predisposition; Religious truths; Points of view; God and nature; A hint from Franklin; Meditations and criticisms; Spiritual insight of Matthew Arnold, and The divine ship.

Burton, J.: Bloundelle. The seafarers: a modern romance. N. Y., Appleton, 1900. c. 3+310 p. D. (Appleton's town and country lib., no. 285.) cl., $1; pap., 50c.

A series of exciting adventures are woven around a young English girl who starts to make the voyage to India to marry her betrothed there. She sails in her uncle's ship and finds on board a man who is very much in love with her.

Capes, Bernard. From door to door: a book of romances, fantasies, whimsies, and levities. N. Y., F: A. Stokes Co., [1900.] c. 8+318 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Short stories, by the author of "Our Lady of Darkness," some of which were first published in English periodicals such as Blackwood's Magazine, Cornhill, The Pall Mall Magazine and Literature. The title of some of the stories are The sword of Corporal Lacoste; An ugly customer; The cursing-bell (a dream story); A coward; The meek shall inherit the earth; The chapter's doom; Jemmy Jessama the runner.

Casey, Rev. P. H. The Bible and its interpreter. Phil., J: Jos. McVey, 1900. c. 2-94 p. sq. D. cl., 50 c.; pap., 25 c.

"This little treatise is intended to be a popular presentation of the question of questions between Catholics and Protestants. The writer has avoided technicalities and distinctions that would of necessity find place in a work purely theological. His aim has been to present the matter in a plain, simple way, but at the same time to give his readers the substance of Catholic teaching on this important question." Preface.

Chapman, Frank Michler. Bird studies with a camera; with introductory chapters on the outfit and methods of the bird photographer; il. from nature by the author. N. Y., Appleton, 1900. c. 14+218 p. D. cl., $1.75.

The titles of the studies are: Bird photography begins at home; The chickadee—a study in black and white; The least bittern and some other reed inhabitants; Two herons; Where swallows roost; Two days with the terns; Perce and Bonaventure; The Magdalens; Bird rock; Life on Pelican island, with some speculations on the origin of bird migration.

Clarke, M. Story of Ulysses. N. Y., American Book Co., [1900.] 3-283 p. il. D. (Eclectic school readings.) cl., 60 c.

Describes in simple language the wonderful adventures of the Greek chief or King, Ulysses, during his long voyage home to Ithaca after the siege of Troy.

Dearmer, Percy. Highways and byways in Normandy; il. by Jos. Pennell. N. Y., Macmillan, 1900. 10+368 p. D. cl., $2.

Entering Normandy at Gisors, the author made a cycling tour through this romantic region of France, which embraced the leading cities, such as Les Andelys, Louviers, Evreux, Caen, Rouen, Le Havre, etc., with many smaller towns. The legends and the historical reminiscences which cling to these places are told with many other details regarding scenery, roads, etc.

De Loup, Maximilian. American salad book: the most complete, original, and useful collection of salad recipes ever brought together. N. Y., McClure, Phillips & Co., 1900. c. '99, 1900. 3-140 p. D. cl., $1.

Embree, C: Fleming. A dream of a throne: the story of a Mexican revolt. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1900. c. 5+464 p. il. O. cl., $1.50.

The period of the story is 1845. Vicente, the hero, and leader of the revolt, is the son of the last daughter of the ancient royal house which, in the province whose capital is Guadalajara, corresponds to the house of Montezuma in the Aztec capital. Opposed to him is Rodrigo, an American in the service of the Mexican government.

Evans, Eliz. Edson. The Christ myth: a study. N. Y., Truth Seeker Co., 1900. c.

2+129 p. D. (Truth seeker's lib., no. 77.) pap., 25 c.

Aims to prove that Jesus Christ had no historical existence.

Exhibition Paris, 1900: a practical guide. N. Y., F: A. Stokes Co., 1900. 3-431 p. maps, plans, D. pap., 50 c.

Containing information as to the means of locomotion, hotels, restaurants, cafes, theatres, shops, museums, buildings and monuments, daily life and habits, the curiosities of Paris and of the Exhibition. A rapid and easy method of seeing everything in a limited time and at a moderate cost.

Farnsworth, Mrs. Vesta J. The house we live in; or, the making of the body. Oakland, Cal., Pacific Press Pub. Co., [1900.] c. 6-218 p. il. O. cl., 75 c.

A book for home reading intended to assist mothers in teaching their children how to care for their bodies and the evil effects of narcotics and stimulants.

Field, C: K. ["Carolus Alger," pseud.] and Irwin, Will H. Stanford stories: tales of a young university. N. Y., Doubleday, Page & Co., 1900. c. 7+281 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

While the attempt has been made to depict in character, incident, and atmosphere, the life of Stanford University—the stories date before the erection of the new buildings. The titles are A midwinter madness; Pocahontas, freshman; His uncle's will; The initiation of Dromio; The substituted full-back; Two pioneers and an audience; For the sake of argument; A dinner; Bogg's election feed; In the dark days; Crossroads; A song-cycle and a puncture; One commencement.

Fink, Karl. A brief history of mathematics: an authorized tr. of Dr. Karl Fink's "Geschichte der elementar-mathematik," by Wooster Woodruff Beman and David Eugene Smith. Chic., Open Court Pub. Co., 1900. c. tr. 2+333 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Although the work is virtually an historical survey of the elements of mathematics, the original title "Geschichte der elementar-mathematik," is believed to be misleading to English readers, because the work goes beyond the elementary stages of the subject, hence the change of the title to the present form. The author traces the origin of mathematical science to the early Egyptian and Babylonian civilizations, and the beginning of its development to Greece; attempt is also made to differentiate the histories of the separate branches of the science.

Fillmore, C: M., and J. H., eds. Fillmore's Prohibition songs. Cin., O., Fillmore Bros., [1900] 4+192 p. D. bds., 30 c.; limp muslin, 25 c.

A collection of songs "for the prohibition campaign, patriotic services, and all meetings in the interest of reform."

Flom, G: Tobias. Scandinavian influence on Southern lowland Scotch: a contribution to the study of the linguistic relations of English and Scandinavian. N. Y., Macmillan, 1900. 15+82 p. 8°, (Columbia Univ. studies, v. 1, no. 1.) pap., net, $1.

Future (The) of Murray Hill, New York. N. Y., E. W. Johnson, 1900. 31 p. S. map, pap., 15 c.

Relates to the future of real estate on Murray Hill and the probable character of the occupancy of that section of the city in the next decade.

Garland, Will. Matthew Doyle. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham Co., 1900. c. 5-282 p. D. cl., $1.25.

The scene of the story is laid in a small Southern town. The hero, "Mat Doyle," is a fine fellow, the support of his mother and sister and the best friend to his chum "Dud." The two men both love the same woman, and both run for sheriff, one in favor of, one against lynching. Mat was elected, and he opposed lynching. How his principle was tested when the woman he loved was assaulted by a negro, is full of interest. The author is the son of ex-Attorney-General Garland.

Golden (The) legend; or lives of the saints as Englishted, by W: Caxton; ed. by F. S. Ellis. In 6 v. v. 1. and 2. N. Y., Macmillan, 1900. 16°, (Temple classics.) cl., ea., 50 c.; limp leath., ea., 75 c.

Henry Harbaugh, D.D., was Professor of didactic and pastoral theology in the Theological Seminary of the Reform Church, Mercersburg, Pa. He was born October 28, 1817, and died December 28, 1867. He was, says Nathan C. Schaeffer in his introduction, "a typical Pennsylvania German." Mr Schaeffer also regards him as noteworthy, because of his familiarity with the social and religious life of the Pennsylvania Germans. Bibliography (4).

Harland, H.: ["Sidney Luska," pseud.] The cardinal's snuff-box. N. Y., J: Lane, 1900. 3-319 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The snuff box which figures in the novel is a beautiful piece of workmanship in silver repoussé, which was presented to Cardinal Udeschini by the Duchessa di Santiglio, his niece by marriage. Peter Marchdale, a young Englishman from Yorkshire, while sojourning in Italy becomes first a tenant of, and eventually a visitor to the Castle Santiglio, where he first meets the Cardinal and hears the history of the wonderful box as told here; the history is supplemented by Marchdale's own love story.

Wellington, Courtney. Congressman Hardie: a born democrat. N. Y., G: W. Dillingham Co., [1900.] c. 2-240 p. D. cl., $1.25.

A political novel. The book opens with a political speech made by Hardie, then a candidate for Congress, at a country barbecue. A romantic adventure begins at the close of his speech, when Hardie discovers in a sad-eyed girl, a character which influences his whole life and career from that time. The life of this girl Bena, after he is elected to Congress, and she goes to New York to earn a living, contains some most original features, notably, a speech she delivered before a ladies' club which made her famous in a night.

Whitney, Mrs. Adeline Dutton Train. The integrity of Christian science. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1900. c. 4-151 p. cl., $1.

Mrs. Whitney offers what she regards as a much needed corrective to some of the mistakes of Christian Science, as at present taught, and at the same time a presentation of broader understanding and acceptance of its essential truth. Her work has five chapters, or divisions of the subject: The round world, and they that dwell therein; Our reasonable service; The strength that strengtheneth; Rest; and a Scripture key which open a more inclusive interpretation than seems to her to be given in the Christian Science commentary.

A novel setting forth the law of fruitfulness as the great law of life—the fruitfulness of the soil, the fruitfulness of human kind. The romance is a great study of human society—French society in particular—to show the duty, the necessity, and the beauty of large families, and the fatal effects to the state and to the individual of the suppression of the first law of life. It is the first of a series of four works in which Zola proposes to embody what he considers to be the four cardinal principles of human life. The others will be called "Work," "Truth," and "Justice."

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

W: M. VOYNICH, 1 Soho Square, London, has published a catalogue of literary treasures that will readily find a place on the shelves of the reference library of every one interested in the collecting or selling of books. It is entitled "A Second List of Books," and lists the titles of 1,070 books of more than ordinary value. It is especially rich in English books printed abroad; English books printed before 1640; the works of Scottish and Irish writers printed abroad; the production of Hebrew presses; the productions of the first printing presses; English printing up to 1525; and unknown and undescribed books. A number of facsimiles are added to the catalogue, which is for sale at a half crown.

J. PEARSON & CO., 5 Pall Mall Place, London, have just published an attractive catalogue of "First Editions of One Hundred Famous Books, from Homer to Tennyson." Though intended as a trade list it has a decided bibliographic interest, and as such will have interest to dealers as well as to librarians and collectors. It is exquisitely printed by the Chiswick Press, and is illustrated with a number of facsimile and other illustrations—from the Venice Euripides of 1503, the Terence of 1470-'72, the "Hypnerotomachia Poliphili," of 1499, Fox's "Book of Martyrs" (1559), Lafontaine's "Fables Choisies" (1688), "Robinson Crusoe" (1719), "Vicar of Wakefield" (1766), De

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

A NEW magazine called The Pyramid, containing sixteen pages of text and illustrations, has just made its appearance in Chicago. It is styled "an American weekly magazine for the American people." Its features will be comment on current events and general literary topics.

Appleton's Popular Science Monthly for June will make its appearance with the imprint of McClure, Phillips & Co., who have acquired the publishers' rights in this excellent periodical, established by Prof. Edward L. Youmans in 1872, and edited since his death, (in 1887,) by his brother and associate, William Jay Youmans. The editorial department has been placed in the hands of Prof. J. McKeen Cattell of Columbia University, whose intention it is to make the periodical in every respect worthy of its notable past and at the same time to add new features as the development of popular scientific questions of the day may seem to warrant. Among the leading articles in the June number are "Preventive Inoculation," by Prof. W. M. F. Haffkine; "Colonies and the Mother Country," by James Collier; "The Future of the Negro in the United States," by Prof. N. S. Shaler, and "Biographical Sketch of an Infant," by Charles Darwin.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JUNE 2, 1900.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

KEEPING UP BOOKSELLING IN SUMMER.

THOUGH publishers may put out fewer books during the summer and general business may slow down, the reading habit continues—indeed continues in an increasing ratio. The summer vacations, which have become the rule instead of the exception, and in which the busiest man indulges himself, even against his inclination, simply invite to literature. The bookseller who applies himself to cultivating the summer business and who zealously follows it up will be surprised at the profitable results.

The time is at hand when the bookseller must study "summer effects" in dressing his windows and store. All unnecessary stock must be moved out of sight. Novels and light literature generally, thanks to the efforts of the publishers, are put up in bright and "tak-ing" covers that lend themselves easily to cheerful combinations and tempting display. The later styles of stationery and the many varieties of leather goods for the traveller, also may be effectively employed to add to the attractions which a well-aired, cool store may be made to present even on a very warm day.

But the most important part of summer store-keeping is to go after the customer himself. Warm weather makes the average man disinclined to effort; the bookseller must therefore relieve his customers of the exertion of going after reading matter by taking it to them, or, if that is impracticable, by bringing it to their attention. It is a dangerous mistake for a bookseller to permit his customers to get out of the habit of reading during the summer months; that idea, as some one has said, was originated in the brain of some antiquated, inert fossil way back in the last century. It is a relic of barbarism and should not be encouraged by the bookseller because he will be money out of pocket through it. The intelligent man and woman of the present day reads all the year around. They read in summer, just as they dress, and eat, in summer—not quite so solidly, perhaps, but enough to keep them in touch with the latest thought or conceit. And the bookseller's part is to keep them posted in one way or another and by all the arts of which he is master, because if he loses trade in the spring he will be obliged to make up just so much in the fall; but if he keeps it up all summer, why, then, he is way ahead.

TEMPLE SCOTT, THE NEW REPRESENTATIVE OF THE "BODLEY HEAD."

As already noted by us, Temple Scott—a name not entirely unfamiliar to the trade in this country—has succeeded Mr. Robinson as the American representative of John Lane. Mr. Scott, we learn from the May issue of the Bodley Head Bulletin, was born in Hull, Yorkshire, England, thirty-six years ago. He received his early education from his maternal grandfather. At the age of ten he was sent to his parents in Liverpool, and while there distinguished himself as a lad by his aptitude for winning the important school prizes and scholarships. He continued his education at the Liverpool Institute and the University College, passed in honors in examinations in science under the Science and Art Department of South Kensington, and graduated at London University.

He early developed an enthusiasm for books, from the collector's point of view, and this prompted him to enter the business of a second-hand bookseller. He gave up this business, however, and in 1890 entered a London colonial publishing house as literary assistant and editor. On the failure of this house, due to the great bank crisis in Australia, Mr. Scott was received into the firm of George Bell & Sons, the publishers of Bohn's Libraries. For that series he edited an edition of Smollett's novels, and undertook the new issue of Swift's Prose Works, which is still in progress. He also edited a series of modern translations, and founded the very successful Bell's Indian and Colonial Library. In 1895 he began an analytical record of the "Book Sales" of the year, which was continued for four years. In the autumn of 1898, Grant Richards offered him the management of his newly-established publishing business, and this Mr. Scott accepted, remaining with Mr. Richards until last April.

While in Liverpool, Mr. Scott founded the Liverpool Dialectical Society, the Science Club, and assisted in the formation of the Sunday Society and the Liverpool Astronomical Society; The Astronomical Society's journal he edited for twelve months.

In addition to the literary work already mentioned, Mr. Scott has compiled a "Bibliography of the Works of William Morris," edited the Thornton edition of the novels of the Sisters Brontë, and was for two years editor of the monthly magazine, Bookselling, now extinct. He has written many reviews and articles for various journals, and contributed to the Chicago Dial its London letter.

Mr. Scott is an ardent student of English and Continental literature, and is now engaged on an edition of Mrs. Gaskell's "Life of Charlotte Brontë," and exhaustive bibliographies of the translations of Omar Khayyam's "Rubaiyat," and of the Vale Press publications.

While editor of Bookselling, he began a "Bibliographical History of English Literature," but only a few installments appeared. This and a new edition of Lowndes's "Bibliographer's Manual," which he planned with the publishers of that work, must be left, perhaps, for some future day to see completed.

In undertaking the management of John Lane's New York house, he will direct the American edition of The Studio, as well as the many new series of publications which the firm is about to issue. Announcements of these will shortly be made.

HUNTING AFTER IMAGINARY BOOKS.

IT seems that book collectors are now in hot chase after imaginary works. "Serious inquiry," says the New York Evening Post, "has been made for 'Sardonyx,' a book which existed only in the imagination of George Du Maurier, and an American literary agent is said to have sought diligently in England for a copy of 'The Idols of the Market Place,' a work published only in Mrs. Humphry Ward's mind. To get together a library of the books of fiction, as these may be called, would be, suggests an English writer, an ideal pursuit for one of the bored millionaires who are so numerous to-day, and who suffer from the spoilt child's malady of having at instant command everything they wish for. A goodly list might be made out. 'Leaves from the Life-book of Walter Lorraine,' by Arthur Penden- nis, would range with the various novels of David Copperfield, whose titles we do not remember. Lucien de Rubempré's 'Archer de Charles IX.' and 'Marguerites' would stand beside the poems of Canalis and the romances of Nathan. Sir Austin Feverel's 'Pilgrim's Scrip' would cast a sidelong glance at the novel of Miss Broughton's beginner. It used to be fashionable to compile lists of sham book-titles for the doors of libraries. The next man who has occasion for something of this kind might profitably desert the vein of Rabelais, Hood, and Sydney Smith in favor of a small but elegant collection of this 'dream literature.'"

A FIRST FOLIO SHAKESPEARE FOUND AND LOST.

An interesting story has just come to light of the discovery of a copy of the first folio of Shakespeare in an obscure Yorkshire village situated in the heart of the Brontë country. The discovery was made by the village schoolmaster at Oldfield when verifying the catalogue compiled for the sale of the library of an old gentleman named Heaton. The Heatons, says Mr. Halliwell Sutcliffe in his book "By Moor and Fell," were "a fine breed of yeomen," and John Heaton of Ponden House (where the discovery was made) was "a farmer first and the owner of a good library afterwards." It was in this library that the precious work had its abode, and it is natural that it should have remained undiscovered so long, because Ponden is far out of the beaten track "where one has to go by compass, for roads there are none." From Mr. Sutcliffe's account it is just such a place as the bard would have desired for the resting-place of one of the few examples of his first folio. "It is a house the thought of which comes back to one, unbidden, among alien scenes—comes like the smell of hay or the reek that steals through a half-open mistal door at milking-time. You shall see no such house elsewhere. All is quaint and old, and gray with the grayness that comes of long living apart from the ways of men." The library was sold to a ring of second-hand booksellers some one of whom probably has the work now. The schoolmaster, vexed with the mismanagement of the sale, seems to have had no curiosity to see what became of his find.

SIX BEST-SELLING BOOKS IN APRIL.

ACCORDING to The Bookman the six books that have sold best in the order of demand between April 1 to May 1, are:

1. To Have and To Hold. Johnston. Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

NEW METHODIST BOOK AGENTS.

At the meeting of the General Conference of the Methodist Church, held on May 24, Homer Eaton and George P. Mains were re-elected eastern agents of the Methodist Book Concern. Over the western agents, however, there was a contest, which finally resulted in the re-election to the Cincinnati office of A. C. Jennings and the election to the Chicago office of Samuel H. Pye, for years manager of the book concern depository at St. Louis. Dr. Louis Curtis, at present in charge of the Chicago office, withdrew after the second ballot.

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

CAN ART WORKS OWNED BY THE GOVERNMENT BE PROTECTED BY COPYRIGHT?

IN the United States Circuit Court held in Boston, Mass., on May 21, Judge Lowell heard the bill in equity of Frederick Dielman, the well-known artist, against the R. H. White Company. The case is one of widespread interest as it is a test case in which the interests of many well-known American artists are involved. No issue of facts is presented, but certain interests and novel questions of law are raised. The defendant is called to answer the charge of infringement of copyright, on account of the sale of photographs made from Mr. Dielman's copyrighted mural decoration entitled "Law." The photographs were taken from the mosaic panel in the Congressional Library, with the knowledge that the same was copyrighted and with the permission of the United States officials. The question at issue is whether the Government, because it purchased the painting from Mr. Dielman, purchased the rights of reproduction.

OBITUARY NOTES.

FRANCIS HOBSON LITTLE, junior partner of the firm of Dana Estes & Co., died on May 18, at his home in Newton, Mass., in his thirty-first year. He was born in Portland, Me., and was the son of Thomas J. Little. He was educated in New York City and in Paris and fitted for college; but his tastes leaned towards a business career rather than a professional one, and he entered the office of Estes & Lauriat, in the manufacturing department, in the year 1888. His application and industry insured his rapid advancement, and in the year 1897 he was admitted to the firm. In the discharge of his duties he was conscientious to an unusual degree, and his integrity was such that he inspired the highest confidence and respect in every one with whom he had business relations. His funeral was very largely attended by friends and relatives from Portland, New York, and elsewhere. He leaves a wife and one son—a child of four.

FRANCIS M. CROUSE, who for twenty years kept a little book store in a hall basement room at 40 North Delaware Street, Indianapolis, Ind., died at his home, 721 Park Avenue, on April 26. Mr. Crouse was born in Union County, Indiana, in August 1828, and entered Rush Medical College at Chicago when he was twenty years old. He did not like the study of medicine and soon gave it up to take a position with a dealer in music, etc., at Lafayette, Ind. Some time after he went into the book business on his own account at Lafayette. In 1874 he closed his store and went to Indianapolis, where he was employed by Merrill & Co., now the Bowen-Merrill Company. In 1880 he again became his own master and began business at 40 North Delaware Street. Old books and literary "remnants" had a fascination for him, and his store was well stocked with this class of literature. A catalogue advertising his literary curiosities was issued twice a year—sometimes more frequently—which brought him a heavy mail patronage from all parts of the world, especially from England and Germany. He had just issued his forty-second catalogue. His personality was as peculiar as his tastes for literature, and many attempts to give him public notice through the newspapers were of little success. He was so entirely wrapped up in thoughts of his old books that any phase of public life had little attraction for him. A widow and a daughter survive him.

EDWIN J. BUCKLEY, who for more than a dozen years was connected with the subscription department of A. J. Holman & Co., of Philadelphia, died May 19 after a brief illness at his home in Germantown, Pa., aged 46 years. Mr. Buckley began his business career with the late firm of John E. Potter & Co., in which house he ultimately became a partner. Later on he founded the firm of Buckley, Morton & Co., from which he retired to take a position with the house of A. J. Holman & Co. Mr. Buckley was born and raised in what is known as Kensington, Philadelphia, and received his education in the public schools. He was a member of the Veterans Corps of the First Regiment, N. G. P., and he was also a member of the Masonic and other fraternities. In his social relations he was frank, honorable and generous, and there are a host of friends who mourn his untimely death. He leaves a widow and a son.

THOMAS J. MURREY, known to epicures the country over as "Terrapin Tom," shot himself May 22, at his home in New York City. Murrey, who was a past master in the art of good eating and had written a number of books on the subject, was at one time manager of the restaurant in the basement of the House of Representatives. He was appointed to this place in 1892 and held it till 1897. He was an expert in the preparation of special and fancy dishes, and was never at a loss for some special dish to fit the humor of any great man who patronized his place. "I don't feel just right to-day, Tom," some senator would say. "What do you think would fit the case?" Murrey always had a specific, and he always claimed that his dishes so prepared had a distinct bearing on legislation. Murrey was a fisherman, a botanist, and a horticulturist, and used the knowledge so obtained to add to his store of epicurean lore. Prior to his advent in Washington he was a reporter on the New York Sun, and later conducted a magazine called Hotel and Restaurant. Among his books were "Fifty Soups, and How to Make Them," "Twentieth Century Cookery," "Dainty Dishes for Dainty People," and a treatise on the chafing dish. The writing of one of these books led Murrey to change his name. He had always spelled it "Murray," but the printer put in an "e" instead of an "a" when the book was published, and from that time Murrey adopted this mode of spelling his name. He was born in Worcester, Mass., fifty-six years ago.

ran away and shipped on a whaling craft. He became a captain and spent a winter in the Arctic regions, exploring to a point farther north than any American up to that time. He spent some time in the Hawaiian Islands, and was decorated by Kalakaua, king of the Hawaiian Islands, as knight companion of the Royal Order of Kapiolani, in 1888. He practiced medicine for thirty-five years in and near Boston. He was a writer of books, among them being "Isle of Palms, adventures while wrecking for gold"; "Kalāui of Oahu, historical romance of Hawaii"; "Kamēhamēha, the conquering king"; "Voyage of the Fleetwing"; and "Wreck of the Greyhound, romantic love of the Earl's daughter."

THE REV. DR. ADOLPHUS JULIUS FREDERICK BEHRENDTS, author of "Socialism and Christianity," "The Philosophy of Preaching," "The World for Christ," etc., died May 22, at Brooklyn, N. Y. He was born in Holland, December 18, 1839. In 1845 he came to this country, settling first in the West. He was installed pastor of the Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., March 1, 1883.

JAMES SULLMAN PHILLIPS, better known as the "Jeems Phillips" of Eggleston's "Hoosier Schoolmaster," died May 18, in Vevay County, Ind. He was born in June, 1821, in Switzerland County, near Vevay, Ind., and spent his days in the same county. He had an unusual faculty in his younger days for spelling, which made him a marked character in "The Hoosier Schoolmaster."

A. J. AUCHTERLONE, one of the directors of The New Earth, and a well-known writer and lecturer on economics, died suddenly May 21. He was born in Scotland about sixty years ago and lived in Newark, N. J.

COLONEL WICKHAM HOFFMAN, author of "Camp, Court and Siege," and other works, died May 22 at Atlantic City, N. J. He was born in New York in 1821.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ALTOONA, PA.—A. F. Neylon has opened the Opera House Newsstand, and will carry a line of books as well as periodicals.

BLISSFIELD, MICH.—C. W. Bach, book seller, has sold out.

BOSTON, MASS.—Noyes, Platt & Company of 17 Pierce Building, Copley Square, was incorporated under the laws of Delaware. Capital, $40,000. The directors are Isaac Hull Pratt, president; John Miley, vice-president; Benjamin Curtis, treasurer; James Beaumont Noyes, and Frederic H. Curtis. The general manager of the company is Laurens Maynard. Of these, Dr. Platt, Mr. Miley, and Mr. Maynard are directors in the corporation of Small, Maynard & Company; Benjamin Curtis and Mr. Noyes are partners in the firm of Curtis & Cameron; and Frederic H. Curtis represents the remaining stockholders.

CALUMET, MICH.—Mead & Robinson succeed A. J. Weatherwax.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—The A. Flanagan Company has been incorporated with a capital of $25,000. A. Flannagan, G. J. Flannagan and C. W. Flannagan are the incorporators.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—Foltz & Hardy, booksellers, of Canon City, will remove to this place and enlarge their already important business.

DENVER, COLO.—Hamilton & Kendrick, booksellers and stationers, have incorporated as the Hamilton & Kendrick Stationery Company.

LINCOLN, NEB.—Herpolsheimer & Co. have become a stock company under the firm name of H. Herpolsheimer Co.

MONTPELIER, VT.—The Ehle book store, long established here, has gone out of existence.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS.—The partnership heretofore existing between Henry S. Hutchinson & Co., at 198-202 Union Street, in business under the firm name of H. S. Hutchinson & Co., at 198-202 Union Street, was dissolved March 29, 1900, by the death of Mrs. E. H. Hutchinson. The business will be continued at the same stand under the same firm name, by Henry S. Hutchinson, who will pay all bills outstanding and to whom all accounts due said firm should be paid.

NEW YORK CITY.—A. Burnton has been ill for several months and has been obliged to close up his store. He expects to resume as soon as his health will permit.

NEW YORK CITY.—Robert G. Cooke, who was for some time connected with Harper & Brothers and more recently with D. Appleton & Co., and Charles P. Fry, have established themselves under the firm name of Cooke & Fry to bring out privately printed books, whether they be novels, autobiographies, family histories, club books, art volumes, taking charge of the mechanical, artistic, and literary features of the work in all its phases as well as attending to their distribution or marketing.

NEW YORK CITY.—Meyer Brothers Co. are now in their new store at 26 West Thirty-third Street, opposite the Waldorf-Astoria, where they have attractive quarters and an opportunity to make an excellent display of their fine stock of books and prints.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—W. B. Saunders announces the final accomplishment of a step that he has long had in mind. Feeling that the growth of his business to its present large proportions has been due, not alone to his own exertions, but quite as much to the efficient co-operation of a number of his employees, he has decided to give recognition to such service by associating with himself in business, under the firm name of W. B. Saunders & Company, Mr. F. L. Hopkins, manager of the subscription department, and T. F. Dagney, manager of the publication department. These gentlemen have been connected with the establishment almost from its inception, and to their capable management of their respective departments Mr. Saunders attributes much of the success that has attended his efforts. Mr. Saunders believes that this action will strengthen the position of the house in the eyes of the medical profession, as it will secure a permanence of organization that will insure the perpetuation of the business. Besides this, it will obviate the disadvantages incident to a large business that rests entirely upon the shoulders of one person, by permanently attaching to the house those whose ability and experience have contributed in bringing the business to its present state of prosperity. The subscription and publication departments will be conducted as heretofore. The trade book department will be under the management of W. D. Watson, whose connection with the house has extended over the past eight years, and who has demonstrated his ability to manage that department with efficiency and success.

RICHFORD, VT.—F. W. Mitchell has bought F. W. Wheeler's book business.

RICHMOND, VA.—The B. F. Johnson Publishing Company has just been reorganized upon an extensive scale, and now includes as shareholders many southern and western authors, as well as business men all over the south. The promoters of the scheme are Virginianus Newton, E. T. D. Myers, John B. Purcell, John S. Ellett, and Joseph Bryan. While no attempt has been made to form a co-operative establishment between author and publisher, yet the number of authors interested in the new enterprise is certainly significant. The broadening of the lines of the house in question is apparently due to a desire on the part of the south to produce its own school books, those hitherto furnished from the north being held to be prejudicial to southern traditions and southern history, particularly in regard to subjects pertaining to the Civil War.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX.—Ed. Green, the bookseller and newsdealer, who for three years has conducted the stand opposite the San Antonio Light office, has been obliged on account of ill health to sell out. Mr. Green began his business career in a tea and coffee house at seventy-five cents a week and board. Ten years ago he started as a clerk in the book and news business at the corner which he has just left. When his employer died he bought out the business.

SANTA BARBARA, CAL.—T. J. Johnston has succeeded to the firm of Fiske & Johnston.

SEATTLE, WASH.—The Westland Publishing Co. has been incorporated to publish school books by H. O. Hollenbeck, of the Denny-Coryell Printing Co., Seattle; Ethan Allen, Jr., of Allen-Lamborn Co., of Tacoma, and George E. Blankenship, of the O. C. White State printing plant, of Olympia. The company propose bidding for the school books for the State and their principal place of business will be here at Seattle.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Washington Law Book Co. made an assignment about two weeks ago.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. have in preparation a uniform edition of Thomas Wentworth Higginson. The edition will be in seven or eight volumes, printed on antique laid paper from new plates.

THE ABBEY PRESS has just published a collection of short stories entitled "A Triple Flirtation," by L. M. Elshemus, author of "Moods of a Soul," etc. The volume contains eight stories besides the title story, and is illustrated by the authors.

THE DOUBLEDAY & MCCLURE CO. have in press the second edition of "Flame, Electricity and the Camera," by George Iles. The work has met with favor not only in America but in England. Recently the publishers' London agent cabled for 500 copies as his second supply.

A. C. MCCLURG & Co., Chicago, have published a novel entitled "Oh, What a Plague is Love!" by Katharine Tynan (Mrs. Hinkson), author of "The Dear Irish Girl," "The Handsome Brandons," etc. It is unlike her other stories, being a tale of English, not Irish life.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have in preparation in their Heroes of the Nations series a "Life of Chatham," by the Hon. Walford Davis Greene. A large section of the work will be devoted to the part played by the Earl of Chatham in the struggle for American independence.

J. C. BLACKWOOD has issued a brochure for private circulation on "The Early House of Blackwood." Mrs. Oliphant's book on "The Publishing House of Blackwood" was not quite satisfactory in the part dealing with the early history of the Blackwoods. This little book is intended to supply that history.

NEW AMSTERDAM BOOK COMPANY have just ready "The Red Rat's Daughter," by Guy Boothby, of which the scenes are laid in London, Paris, Hong Kong and eastern Siberia; also "A Man's Foes," a new historical novel by E. H. Strain, which the London Sketch calls "quite the best historical novel of the day."

BONNELL, SILVER & Co., New York, will publish shortly "A Summer Journey to Brazil," by Alice R. Humphrey, with 16 full-page illustrations; "Old Ocean's Ferry, a book for Landsman and Mariner," compiled by John Colgate Hoyt; also a practical essay on "Systematic Benevolence," by Dr. D. Stuart Dodge.

W. B. SAUNDERS, Philadelphia, has just ready in his series of Hand Atlases, an "Atlas and Epitome of Special Pathological Histology," by Dr. Hermann Dürck of Munich, edited by Ludwig Hektoen, professor of pathology in Rush Medical College, Chicago. The work is illustrated with 62 lithographic plates in colors.

JAMIESON-HIGGINS Co., Chicago, will publish on the 5th inst. a new book by George W. Peck entitled "Sunbeams," the advance orders for which exceeded 15,000 copies. They will also publish this month, "Tales of the Telegraph," by Jasper Ewing Brady of the U. S. Signal Corps; also "Stories of the Railroad," by John A. Hill. Both books will be illustrated.

MATTHEW BENDER, Albany, N. Y., announces he will issue during the month of June editions of the following works: Cumming & Gilbert's "Poor Law," and a "Village Law;" Dugan's "Justice Practice," two volumes; Gilbert's "Town and County Officer's Manual;" "Greene on Highways and Tax Laws;" Jewett's "Election Manual," eighth edition.

THE ROBERT CLARKE COMPANY, Cincinnati, will publish at once the "Recollections of a Lifetime," by General Roeliff Brinkerhoff, who began his career as a schoolteacher in New York in 1844, and who afterward played an important part in National politics. They have just issued a novel entitled "My Mysterious Clients," by Harvey Scribner, son of the late Judge Scribner.

DODD, MEAD & Co. will publish immediately Mrs. Meynell's monograph on Ruskin. They have in preparation a volume by the late G. W. Steevens, entitled "Travels in London, Paris, and Berlin;" also, Marie Corelli's long expected new novel, entitled, "The Master Christian," which is said to be in the manner of "Barabbas" and "The Sorrows of Satan." The latter will be published early in the fall.

THE first of the Rev. Greenough White's sketches in American church history, "A Saint of the Southern Church," dealing with Bishop Cobbs and his contemporaries, will hereafter be published by Mr. Thomas Whitaker, who recently issued the second, "An Apostle of the Western Church," (on Bishop Kemper and his contemporaries). Both will be uniform in style of binding. Prof. White has not yet announced the subject of the third volume.

THE VIR PUBLISHING COMPANY of Philadelphia offers a prize of $1,000 for the best manuscript of a book addressed to Young Wives, to be a companion volume of equal merit to the dollar book which they publish, by Sylvanus Stall, D. D., entitled, "What a Young Husband Ought to Know." The contest is restricted to women, the manuscript limited to 70,000 words, and to be submitted by February 1st, 1901. Full information can be secured by addressing the Vir Publishing Company, Real Estate Trust Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

SMITH, ELDER & Co. correct erroneous reports which have circulated in the press to the effect that the issue of the supplementary volumes of the "Dictionary of National Biography" may not take place for some years. As a matter of fact, it is their intention to wait until the end of the present year and then produce them as soon as possible, thus appropriately rounding off this great work with the close of the nineteenth century. The final volume of the ordinary issue of the "Dictionary of National Biography" will appear on the 26th inst.

WILLIAM ABBATT, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York, is about to republish the rare book written by Major-Gen. William Heath of the Continental Army, and entitled "Memoirs of Major-Gen. Heath. Containing Anecdotes, Details of Skirmishes, Battles, etc., During the American War." The volume was originally issued in 1798, and has never until the present time been republished. There will also be included in the reprint accounts of the Battle of Bunker Hill, given by Gens. Heath, Dearborn, Wilkinson, and Henry Lee, with which will be interleaved several productions of rare engravings.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish at once two farces by Mr. Howells which have never been reprinted from the magazines in which they appeared. They are entitled "Bride Roses," and "Room 45." They are bright, deliciously humorous, exquisitely refined, and charming in style, and they are brought out in little volumes of attractive typography, simply and artistically bound. Two other plays by Mr. Howells, "An Indian Giver" and "The Smoking Car," will be brought out in the autumn in the same style with those named above.

THE MACMILLAN Co. have issued "The Soul of a Christian," by Frank Granger, the author of "The Worship of the Romans," and "A Short Account of the Human Mind." A fair idea of the scope and purpose of the book may be gleaned from the headings of a few of its chapters: The depths of the soul; The oversoul; The soul's awakening; Ecstasy; The dark night of the soul; Visions and voices; Human and divine love; Symbol and ritual; Prophecy and inspiration; Illumination and progress; Direction, confession, and casuistry, and Mystical theology.

THE ALLIANCE PUBLISHING COMPANY, 19 West Thirty-first Street, New York, have just ready a second edition of "The Masked Prophet," by John Bowles; "The Esoteric Art of Living," by Joseph Stewart; "How to Become Soul Centered," by Jane Porter Rudd; "Regeneration," by F. B. Dowd; and the third volume of the "Library of Health," by Charles Brodie Patterson. The Alliance Publishing Company has changed management, E. Burt Beckwith having succeeded Harry Gestefeld, the former manager, who has accepted a position at Wilbur B. Ketcham's.

THE METAPHYSICAL PUBLISHING Co., 465 Fifth Avenue, New York, have purchased the plates, with all the American rights, of Dr. Franz Hartmann's "Magic—White and Black," "Paracelsus," "Life and Writings of Jacob Boehme," and "The Talking Image of Urur;" "Reincarnation," by G. D. Walker; "The Pilgrim and the Shrine," by Edward Maitland; "The Perfect Way," by Edward Maitland and Anna B. Kingsford; "Occult Science in India," by Jacolliot; and the following books by Mabel Collins: "The Idyll of the White Lotus," "The Blossom and the Fruit," and "Light on the Path."

JOHN LANE has just ready a volume entitled "The Filipino Martyrs, a story of the crime of the 4th of February, 1899," by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, an English barrister who had occasion to visit Manila after the occupation of that island by the United States troops. As may be judged from the title, the author has written a formidable criticism of the action of the United States in regard to the Philippines since the end of the war with Spain. Mr. Lane has also just published "The Rhodesians," by Stracey Chambers, which contains a graphic description of the early English settlement in South Africa.

THE CENTURY COMPANY have made arrangements with Ig. Paderewski to act as editor-in-chief of "The Century Library of Music." This work will appear in twenty volumes, containing richly illustrated articles upon the great composers of the world, written by other composers, and with music which will include the cream of piano-forte literature, including Paderewski's entire repertoire, each piece newly fingered, phrased and pedal-marked, according to the latest and highest standards. The work is being prepared under Paderewski's personal supervision. The first volume will appear in September.

GEORGE M. HILL COMPANY, Chicago, have published a novel entitled "Halmar," by Gertrude Potter Daniels. They will publish shortly "The Songs of Father Goose," made up of twenty-six of Mr. Baum's "Father Goose" rhymes set to music by Alberta N. Hall and accompanied with pictures by W. W. Denslow. They will publish on the first of September next a new book by L. Frank Baum, entitled "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz," with illustrations by Denslow. The advance orders thus far placed encourage the publishers to believe that the first edition will number well over thirty thousand copies. The book will be printed in colors.

MCCCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO. have just published "The Green Flag, and Other Stories of War and Sport," by A. Conan Doyle, which attracted such attention in England, and of the title story of which the London Telegraph said: "Few novelists of our time could have told the story in such stirring language"; "Monsieur Beaucaire," by Booth Tarkington, author of "The Gentleman From Indiana," with six illustrations in color by C. D. Williams; "Dwight L. Moody, Some Impressions and Facts," by Henry Drummond, with introduction by Dr. George Adam Smith; also "The American Salad Book," by Maximilian De Loup, a collection of upwards of 300 recipes, together with chapters on preparing salads.

HARPER & BROTHERS are following up their subscription edition of Motley's works with a library edition and an édition de luxe of the entire works of Oliver Goldsmith, including Forster's life. The édition de luxe will be known as the Wakefield Edition, and will be in twelve volumes, each to have ten photogravures and an illuminated title page on imperial Japan paper. The text is that of the Cunningham edition. The introduction is written by Austin Dobson. The frontispieces are by Howard Pyle, Alfred Fredericks, and A. J. Kellar. They have also under way a new edition of Blackmore's "Lorna Doone," with thirty-two full page illustrations and a photogravure portrait of the author. The subscription department, since November last, has been in charge of Francis A. Winship, who was formerly with Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

FREDERICK WARNE & CO. will publish immediately a new story by Silas K. Hocking, entitled "When Life is Young"; also an entirely new and original work entitled "The Nuttall Encyclopedia of Useful Information," comprising history, biography, literature, geography and general reference, compiled by the Rev. James Wood, editor of "Nuttall's Standard Dictionary." They have in preparation for the holiday season "Pan Pipes," a book of old songs, decorated by Walter Crane, and set to music by Theo. Marzials; also, "A Sketch Book of R. Caldecott's," printed in tints. The Messrs. Warne have made arrangements to take over the publication of the many children's art books illustrated by Kate Greenaway and Walter Crane, the popularity of which style of decoration it is prophesied will again come into vogue in the near future.

FREDERICK A. STOKES CO. report good sales on their "Practical Guide to the Paris Exhibition," which is one of the most complete and comprehensive books of the kind published, containing information as to railways, means of locomotion, hotels, restaurants, cafés, theatres, shops, museums, buildings and monuments, daily life and habits, the curiosities of Paris and of the Exhibition. One aim of this book is to enable an inexperienced traveller to land in France and get along without any trouble. Every difficulty he is likely to encounter is provided for. If he is arrested, the book tells him what to do. If he has a quarrel with his landlord, he can find his resource in this handy little reference book. Besides this, it has the names of hundreds of hotels, restaurants and boarding-houses, particularly those in the vicinity of the city which are likely to be used by bicyclists. It contains coupons which can be used in the advantageous purchase of special articles in Paris, and it has numerous other practical advantages. They will publish during the autumn Stephen Crane's new book entitled "Wounds in the Rain"; "From Door to Door, a book of romances, fantasies, whimsies and levities," by Bernard Capes; and Anthony Hope's new novel, "Quisante," which, by the way, will not appear in serial form. They have also made arrangements for a new novel by each of the following authors: Robert Barr, Sir Walter Besant, F. T. Bullen, Egerton Castle, Robert W. Chambers, S. R. Crockett, Robert S. Hichens, John Oliver Hobbes, Cutcliffe Hyne, W. W. Jacobs, Levett-Yeats, Alfred Henry Lewis, A. W. Marchmont, A. E. W. Mason, Max Pemberton, Elizabeth Robins, and H. G. Wells.

THE LOTHROP PUBLISHING CO. have in preparation for early publication "Eben Holden," a character study of northern New York, by Irving Bacheller, the founder of the Bacheller Syndicate, for literary supply. "Uncle Ebb" is a quaint character of the fields and forests of St. Lawrence County, as practical as he is simple and as rugged in nature as he is noble in soul. The flavor of the country runs through the story, which for a time shifts to New York City and the Tribune of Horace Greeley's day, includes the rush and romance of enlistment in the wonderful war days of '61, and culminates in a brief description of the riot at Bull Run. They also announce "The Last of the Flat-boats," by George Cary Eggleston, based upon an adventurous trip on a flatboat, for recreation and revenue, from a little Indian town to New Orleans. One of the chief characters in the story—the boy "Ed."—is said to be modelled upon the boyhood of the author's distinguished brother, Dr. Edward Eggleston, chronicler of Hoosier schoolmasters and schoolboys. The illustrations by Charlotte Harding are pronounced full of the sentiment and action of the story. "Concerning Cats," another book announced by this firm, by Helen M. Winslow, editor of the Club-woman, is the result of years of loving study of the chief household pet, and deals with the cat in every phase of its story. Cats of history, of literature and art, pet cats, prize cats, fancy cats and the dear domestic "puss" are all to find a place in the book, as well as the care and treatment of cats in sickness and health. It may be accepted as a book for the cat "fancier," and this means all who love cats. The book will be profusely illustrated by photographs of famous cats and the cats of famous people.

PICK-UPS.

A PROMINENT jobber recently ordered from the publisher of "Barrington's Magna Charta and other great charters of England," as follows: "Send one negro chart and other great charities of England."

THE New York Observer, in its issue of May 17, refers to the new issue of Emily Brontë's "Wuthering Heights," in the Haworth edition, as "Writhing Heights."

HOSTESS: "Run, daughter, and bring in the new kitten. Isn't she a beauty! Her name is 'Janice Meredith.'" VISITOR: "Oh, that's nothing. We've got two at our house, and they're 'To Have and To Hold.'"

AN OLD JOKE.—When Sterne's "Tristram Shandy" was first published, the booksellers of that day, one hundred and forty years ago, with considerable indignation returned to the publisher as imperfect their copies of the volume which contained the sheet of marbled paper that was inserted to take the place of the page which Uncle Toby was supposed to have torn out in a pet. The Macmillan Company is having a similar experience with their edition of the work in the handsome English Classics series. At least half a dozen copies have been returned with request that perfect books be substituted, and all because of the insertion of the marbled paper leaf. Several of these demands have come from dealers who ought to have known better.

AUCTION SALES.

[Under this heading advance notices will be inserted, without charge, of book auction sales to be held anywhere in the United States. Word should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon to insure insertion in the same week's issue.]

JUNE 4-6, 3 P.M.—Miscellaneous, including the library of the late Fred. Mather, of the U. S. Fish Commission. (1087 lots.)—Bangs.

JUNE 7, 8, 3 P.M.—Miscellaneous. (597 lots.)—Bangs.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office should either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

The Isle of the Winds

By S. R. Crockett

HE first five thousand copies of this dashing new story of Mr. Crockett's were not sufficient for the advance orders; a second five thousand is now in press and we hope to have copies immediately. The book's instant success is easy to understand; it is a stirring romance of Scotland and the West Indies in the 17th century, and the hero, kidnapped from Aberdeen, after many adventures falls into the hands of the Inquisition in Porto Rico.

Size, 5½ x 8¼; Binding, green cloth, decorated; Illustrated; $1.50.

Dodd, Mead & Co.

will publish early in the FALL

long new novel, entitled

The Master Christian.

THIS work was begun a short time before the novelist's almost fatal illness at the end of 1897, which incapacitated her from every kind of exertion. She resumed her writing, a little each day, under the advice of her physicians till, when her health was restored, she was able to concentrate herself entirely upon it in her usual way. "The Master-Christian" will startle many by its daring yet highly poetic conception, and its fearless treatment of one of the most vital problems of the time.

It is much in the manner of "The Romance of Two Worlds," "Barabbas," and "The Sorrows of Satan."

Miss Corelli, who in point of popularity belongs in the very front rank of living writers, has written in "The Master-Christian" a long and important novel. She has lately published one or two short stories and one or two slight books. But this is to be a serious novel in her earlier manner, and it is predicted by those who are in the author's confidence that it will be as absorbing as anything she has written.
